

Yintelligentsia's business activities:

Copyrights belong to Elisabeth Zhang

1. Consulting, in the following categories

- a) Cybersecurity in general, from basic enterprise level to extremely targeted individual level;
- b) strategies to deal with post-covid digital disruptions in the form of cyberstalking, online safety, dating security;
- c) business support by providing training, constructing new business models in post-covid according to the company's current stage

Activity listing:

- Providing cybersecurity live support to clients via ZOOM call upon scheduling, charge per minute with an expert in the requested area(a)
- Providing general cybersecurity diagnosis and customized proposals to our client company based on their online security status and future needs, charge per ZOOM session, the first 15 min for free after initial email exchanges (a) (b)
- Providing strategic planning to enterprises who are identified to be often the target of cyberattacks, charge per ZOOM session and per completed document (b) (c)
- Providing training, and help design new business management models suited for cybersecurity needs and providing post-covid specific tips

2. Online courses and programs, in the following categories

- a) Social sector programs include “Awareness for Alert” for social justice activists, “Asians but Aggressive” for victims of racism, “Stop Online Bully” for children and teenagers who have undergone online bullies, etc. For lawyers, such as “Why Ads Matter” to help them manage the undiscovered factors that influence their functionality as a professional lawyer.
- b) Tech sector programs include “Why We Care” for connecting tech-savvy individuals to our social sector professionals in order to point out the necessity of the connection at our platform E-tenity; “We Know and We Care” to help IT workers deliver their knowledge to the less tech-savvy individuals via our individualized course; “I Hear and Help” program to provide tech sector professionals part-time job and opportunities to meet various post-covid real world challenges in different industries

Activity listing:

- Online Courses: for social sector programs courses are usually taught by psychologists, social workers or experienced business professionals in cybersecurity; for tech sector programs courses are taught by tech professionals themselves. Charge per course. (a) (b)

- Matchmaking session: after doing a special designed test (SDT) for tech or social sector professional, and suppose he finishes the individualized program through the end, there will be opportunity for him to be matched with a professional from the opposite sector and they can exchange ideas during the session (each one gives the other one a review at the end, with information of names, topic discussed, solution and why that is.) (a), (b)
- One-on-one cyberstalking victim support: schedule a direct call with the founder Elisabeth and get premiere support for cyberstalking issues. Charge per minute. Or schedule a call with social workers or psychologists who themselves have not been a victim and are less experienced in providing such support, charge per session. (a) (b)

3. Internal Meetings, in the following categories

- a) Administration and management team
- b) Project members (including employees, volunteers and general members)

Activity listing:

- The company's legal employees in Singapore are compulsory to meet to discuss and report work, both online and offline where possible (a)
- We conduct monthly "Greet and Meet" member meetings.

4. Security product recommendations

Activity Listing

- Providing security product recommendations after SDT (special designed test) and the individualised educational program, a link to the third-party's purchase website